Dear General Beyea:

From time to time CIA runs a week-long Executive Leadership Forum for about 15 newly appointed senior executives. One of the highlights of the course is the roundtable discussion among executives from other government agencies and business.

We would like to invite you to participate in this discussion on Wednesday, April 30, 1986. You would be one of a panel of speakers; including J. W. Marriott, Jr., Marriott Corporation, V. Orville Wright, MCI and Israel Cohen, Giant Food; who address the following aspects of executive development:

1. What experiences were most significant in preparing you for your present position?
2. How do you view executives as leaders?
3. How does your organization identify and develop executive talent?
4. Do you see the executive role changing over the next decade? If so, would there be a corresponding change in the kinds of people that would be required?
5. Can you recount any particular kinds of duties or events that have caused your executives identified as "high potential" to plateau or fail?
6. What advice would you give your recently appointed executives?

The panel will meet at Jordan Hollow Farm Inn located in Stanley, Virginia. We have enclosed a map for your use. The session is scheduled to begin at 7:00, and we invite you to join us for dinner at 5:00 p.m.

Brigadier General Richard S. Beyea, Jr.
